Great Readers, Great Leaders

We are delighted to feature book recommendations from Jane Sewell.

Jane's Bio

Since 2000, Jane Sewell has been the Executive Director of the Union Mills Homestead Foundation, a non-profit organization dedicated to the preservation and restoration of the Union Mills Homestead - the original home of the Shriver Family, going back to 1797, and site of both a Union and Confederate encampment of troops on the way to the Battle of Gettysburg.

As a child, Jane enjoyed working on a Shriver family farm, Alsenborn, in Baltimore County. She began studying dance at age five, and with great dedication, earned a Bachelor of Science in Dance and Physical Education from University of North Carolina. She pursued a career in New York City and danced with the highly acclaimed June Taylor Dancers, before returning to Baltimore, where she and her husband raised two daughters. Jane taught physical education and dance at the Calvert School for 38 years before retiring in 2011.

Jane is the co-chair of Carroll County's Celebrating America initiative. The Alzheimer's Association has benefitted tremendously from her fundraising efforts through the Memory Ball, where she won the "You're Our Star" dance competition in 2013. Jane is also an accomplished golfer.
