CCPL and A Likely Story Bookstore to Host Lisa Scottoline National Book Launch

Westminster, MD – Carroll County Public Library (CCPL) and A Likely Story Bookstore will host the national book release for Lisa Scottoline's latest book, Someone Knows, on Monday, April 8, 7:00pm, at the Carroll Arts Center. Tickets are $29 and include a copy of Someone Knows. Tickets may be purchased at http://carrollcountycouncil.org/eventdetail.asp?event_id=2085.

Lisa Scottoline is a #1 Bestselling Author, The New York Times bestselling author and Edgar award-winning author of 32 novels, including her latest work, Someone Knows which releases April 9, 2019. Attendees of this book tour kick-off will receive the book one day before the release date.

Someone Knows is an emotionally complex psychological thriller that not only delves deeply into the lives of the five young people at the story's center, but also into the troubled lives of many of the adults living in an insular community where carefully-curated appearances can be deceptive.

A book signing will follow the author talk and books will be available for purchase from A Likely Story Bookstore. No outside books permitted at book signing.
