

Carroll County Public Library Fishing Pole Agreement Form

Like other circulating material, fishing poles may be placed on hold and borrowed at any CCPL branch. You may ask Information Desk staff for assistance, or place the item on hold yourself using the library's online catalog. Carroll County Public Library is pleased to offer this service to its customers, courtesy of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, subject to the following terms and conditions:

- Fishing poles must be returned to a branch of Carroll County Public Library during business hours. Fishing poles cannot be returned in the book drop, or left outside the library. Customer will be responsible for returning the fishing rod to the service desk during regular business hours.
- Fishing poles are checked out for 1 week. A fine of .25 per day will be assessed if returned late.
- Borrower must have a library account with Carroll County Public Library.
- Borrower assumes all responsibility of the fishing pole and accessories. The library will not be held liable for any injury due to the fishing pole.
- Borrower understands that if the fishing pole is not returned, he or she will be charged a replacement cost, as outlined below.

Item	Cost

*Bennett Cerf, Carroll County Farm Museum, & Westminster Community Ponds are non- tidal fishing.

Quick tips

- Carry the rod upright with one hand while using the other hand to hold the line above the hook to prevent injury.
- Do not run with the rod.
- Avoid casting overhead when trees are near.
- Build a circle of safety before casting. Ensure there is a rods' length on either side and behind you before casting.
- Any cut line, hooks, or other trash should be disposed of properly. Don't leave it behind for animals to ingest or for other anglers to be injured.

How to release line and cast

- Hold the rod with the reel above the rod.
- Press and hold the button on the reel. The line should release (may need to shake the rod slightly).
- Release the button and wind the reel lever toward you until about 2 feet of line is remaining free.
- Press and hold the button and swing the rod over the water. The line should flow across the water.
- Release the button in the middle of the cast.
- Reel in the line until the slack is taken up and the bends and kinks of the line disappear.
