

CELEBRATING AMERICA HISTORY EXPO

The Celebrating America History Expo supports Carroll County Public School's History Day competition for middle and high school students. Carroll County History Day is the first round of competition leading to Maryland History Day and National History Day. Our partners recognize and award students who tie their project to local history. The Expo is free and open to the public and features presentations, displays, and guest speakers.

Please check our calendar of events for upcoming programs in cooperation with our partners or any changes in scheduling:

Celebrating America Carroll County is an inclusive collaboration of county government, local municipalities, private and non-profit organizations, businesses, individuals, and other interested parties who garner participation, broaden understanding, and welcome visitors, and encourage residents to learn more about Carroll County's role in American History.

Did you know that in Carroll County Maryland...

- The first Rural Free Delivery Postal Service began in Carroll County?
- Robert Strawbridge pioneered American Methodism in Carroll County?
- Carroll County's infrastructure was critical during the Gettysburg Campaign?

There is so much to discover in historic Carroll County!
